EBERHART'S PLAN IS A BOMBSHELL

Startles Congress of Governors at Washington.

FOR FIRST TIME ON RECORD

Chief Executives of the Various States Asked to Make a Direct Request Upon Congress for Legislation—Resolution Referred to a Committee Composed of Five Governors.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Governor Eberhart of Minnesota threw a bombshell into the congress of governors when he offered a resolution calling upon the federal government to enact a law that would have the effect of preventing interference by the federal courts with the orders of state railway commissions until all remedies in such cases had been invoked at the hands of state courts.

According to Governors Harmon of Ohio and Fort of New Jersey this is the first time that the governors have been asked to make a direct request upon congress for legislation. The Eberhart resolution was referred to a committee composed of Governors Harmon and Fort, Burke of North Dakota, Prouty of Vermont and Ansel of South Carolina.

It will come up for debate in the governors' congress, Governor Eberhart's resolution, in part, follows:

"Interference by the federal courts with the orders of state railroad commissions has been in the past a source of irritation, not so much because of any objection to the exercise of federal authority as by reason of the manner in which that authority has been exerted.

"In our opinion the friction heretofore existing would largely be obviated if railroads and the holders of their securities were obliged to fully exhaust the remedies provided for by the states before resorting to the federal courts, and such is the apparent intimation of the supreme court of the United States in Virginia corporation cases, Prentice et al. vs. Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company, 211 U. S., 210.

Authority of State Courts.

"When the statutes of a state provide a method by which the orders of a state commission can be reviewed in the courts of the state, and when the state courts have authority to stay the operation of the order pending such proceedings in review, then, in our opinion, the statutes of the United States should expressly provide that the federal courts shall exercise no jurisdiction whatever until the final determination of the proceedings in the highest court of the state.

"If the state court has no authority to stay the operation of the order pending proceedings in review, then the federal court to that extent should exercise jurisdiction. After the conclusion of the proceedings in the state court the case should be transferred by writ of error or other proper process from the highest court of the state to the supreme court.

"Should a commerce court be established, as suggested by President Taft, for the purpose of reviewing the orders of the interstate commerce commission, in our opinion the writ of error should lie to that court and the injunctive process against orders of state commissions should issue from that court."

"State rights" was the burden of most of the addresses delivered at the conference, with particular reference to the conservation of resources and the regulation and supervision of public service corporations. An interchange of views on these two subjects showed a unanimity of opinion as to the necessity for state action.

A feature of the afternoon session was a speech by Ambassador Bryce, who believed the conference would emphasize the importance of the government.

OFFERED BY SENATOR CLAPP

Bill Providing for Sale of Timber on Indian Lands.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Senator Clapp introduced in the senate a bill prepared by Secretary Ballinger of the interior department giving the department authority to sell mature, living and dead and down timber on Indian lands, the proceeds to be used for the benefit of the Indians. The department has such authority now only as to timber on Indian reservations in Minnesota. Secretary Ballinger wants the law made general.

In many instances the timber is the only valuable part of the allotment or is the only source from which funds can be obtained for support of the Indian or the improvement of his allotment. Much mature timber now goes to waste. Indians could be given work and funds would be provided for tribal uses, relieving demands on the treasury.

Joke In a Needle's Point.
Some years ago an American firm sent to a Chinese house in Canton the smallest and finest kind of needle as a sample of our skill in delicate handicraft. It was returned to the firm with a hole through the point, which could be seen only with a microscope.

CASE IS AN UNUSUAL ONE

Fern Howard to Get a Pardon as a Wedding Gift.

St. Paul, Jan. 20.—When Miss Fern Howard becomes the wife of Harry C. Hill at Hiawatha temple, Sixth and Wabasha streets, next Tuesday night, she will receive from Major General Edward Fielding of the Volunteers of America a document such as no Minnesota bride ever before received on her wedding night. The document is a pardon from the state of Minnesota, removing the probation under which she has enjoyed her freedom since last July and permitting her to leave the state.

The name of Fern Howard is well known in St. Paul, but the complete story of her sad and tragic life has never been told. She said that before leaving next week for Lincoln, Neb., to engage in religious work that she will tell all to Captain Tim Murphy of the Volunteers, and that he can use it where he will if he thinks it will lead other wayward girls to a better life.

But part of her story is known, for she was born in St. Paul twenty-one years ago. Almost from her infancy she was a daughter of the city streets. She stabbed her father during a quarrel and pleaded guilty to second degree assault. She was paroled, but her suspended sentence was revoked and she was sent to the St. Cloud reformatory, where she soon became incorrigible. A few months later she was transferred to Stillwater, where she finally reformed and will now marry Lieutenant Harry C. Hill of the Volunteers of America.

JOHN R. WALSH NOW IN A PRISON CELL

Former Financier Begins Serving His Sentence.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 20.—On a little iron cot in a cell of the federal prison here John R. Walsh, who has been serving a five-year sentence for misapplying the funds of the Chicago National bank, spent his first night in the penitentiary.

If the change from a luxurious room in his Calumet avenue mansion in Chicago to a small barred space worked a hardship with the prisoner he did not show it by his actions. He has accepted his new situation with smiling good grace. He is outspoken in his approval of the kindly manner in which he has been treated since his arrival.

The new surroundings did not make Mr. Walsh—who is now known as "Convict 6861"—nervous. He sat calmly in his cell and read until the big gong sounded "lights out" at 9 o'clock. Then he disrobed and retired. When a guard passed the cell a few minutes later the ex-banker was sleeping peacefully.

When the convicted banker was shown his cell he asked several questions about the rules governing his incarceration.

"Just tell me what to do and I will do it," he said. "If I violate any rules I assure you it will be through ignorance only."

Little attempt was made to teach the new prisoner the rules. Prison officials thought it best not to burden his mind with the details of prison life until he had become thoroughly rested from his trip here.

Many persons who saw the convicted financier enter the prison with sprightly step and smiling countenance predicted a relapse would follow when he was settled inside the walls. It was said that Mr. Walsh was straining every point to make himself appear cheerful before his friends. Few men, even twosome years younger than this gray haired convict, have walked as calmly into prison as he did.

Warden R. W. McClaughray, an old time personal friend of Mr. Walsh, was one of those who feared the prisoner might suffer a relapse. But, after talking with him, he said:

"Mr. Walsh is bearing up well. I am surprised at the vitality he shows. I do not predict a relapse. He will probably be able to take up some regular employment in a few days."

Will Build New Ore Dock.
Superior, Wis., Jan. 20.—The Great Northern railroad company is preparing to build a new ore dock at Allouez, material for which has already been ordered. The dock will be 1,800 feet long, extending over the bay almost to the dock line, and will have 300 piers. It will be built of concrete and steel and will be fireproof throughout.

Killed by His Own Pie.
Freeport, L. I., Jan. 20.—Henry Mead, a baker, dropped dead here after eating a piece of his own pie for breakfast. The doctor ascribed death to heart failure superinduced by acute indigestion. Mead was seventy-one years old.

Wisconsin Man Killed.
New Richmond, Wis., Jan. 20.—Thomas Connelly, aged thirty years and single, residing in Cylon, this county, was killed in an accident on a logging railway on which he was employed near Everett, Wash.

Cook's Data Worthless.
Copenhagen, Jan. 20.—The committee of the University of Copenhagen has completed its examination of Dr. Frederick A. Cook's original notes, and confirmed its previous conclusions that not the slightest proof that the explorer reached the North pole had been submitted.

Wisconsin Man Killed by Tree.
Medford, Wis., Jan. 20.—John Bye, fifty-four years old, while working in the woods near Goodrich, was instantly killed by a falling tree. His home was at Athens.

Body Found in a Trunk.
Seattle, Wash., Jan. 20.—The dismembered body of a young woman was found in a trunk on the shore at the north entrance to Seattle harbor. The trunk apparently had been buried high upon the bluff, but had been carried down to the beach by a recent landslide.

UNIFORMITY IN STATE LAWS

Advocated by Final Session of Civic Federation.

EBERHART MAKES A SPEECH

Minnesota Governor Declares That So Long as Food Is Necessary to Human Life Agriculture Must Remain as the Most Vital and Important Industry of Man—Explains Conservation Movement.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Agreeing that there should be uniformity in state laws affecting not only commercial matters, but likewise those that pertain to the well-being of the individual, the Civic Federation at its final session adopted a number of resolutions.

Among the resolutions adopted were those recommending to the governors the adoption of uniform laws for the protection of children employed in the industries; favoring a uniform insurance code for adoption by the several states; uniform legislation on the subject of gathering and preservation of vital statistics; endorsing the conservation of American forests and referring the same to the committee on uniform state laws.

The conference further adopted a resolution recommending to the governors of the several states, now meeting in this city, and to the states themselves, that workmen's compensation acts, fair to the employer and employee and just to the state, be uniformly substituted for the system of employers' liability for injuries received in and arising out of the course of employment.

A resolution was passed recommending to the prospective states consideration of the development of water power and their regulation on non-navigable streams, with a view to bringing about uniformity of state regulation looking to uniform cooperation between each state and the federal government in the development and control of water power.

Governor Eberhart's Address.

Governor Eberhart of Minnesota was a speaker at the afternoon session.

"So long as food is necessary to human life," the governor said, "agriculture must remain as the most vital and important industry of man; and the farm will be the most general and indispensable theater of his activity."

After explaining that the conservation movement is intended not only to restore and increase soil fertility by protecting forests and draining waste lands, as well as to do away with wasteful methods, the governor continued:

"Minnesota is recognized as one of the most progressive states in the Union. In 1861, when Abraham Lincoln issued his famous call for volunteers to defend natural liberty and the Union, the first regiment of American volunteers to respond to the call was the First Minnesota. So, when President Roosevelt issued his call for conservation to preserve for future generations the great natural resources of America, Minnesota is again first to respond to the call with a strong patriotic organization and the first state conservation congress which will convene in St. Paul March 16, 17, 18 and 19, 1910, and to which a cordial invitation is extended."

PRAISES HIS PREDECESSOR

Governor Eberhart Lauds the Late Governor Johnson.

Washington, Jan. 20.—"As I sat in the executive office in the state capital at St. Paul and saw the multitudes that came to pay tribute to the body of John A. Johnson lay in state, I realized to the full that the people of Minnesota appreciate good service," said Governor Eberhart during the course of a speech at a reception held at the Arlington hotel in his honor by the Minnesota Alumni association of this city. Governor Eberhart eulogized the services of his late predecessor as the climax of an address in which he touched upon the material progress of Minnesota, the prominence of her sons and daughters in various lines of endeavor, and the work being performed by the state university, especially along agricultural lines.

The Minnesota colony was out in force to greet the state executive.

College Gets Check From Carnegie.
Charles City, Ia., Jan. 20.—Mr. Carnegie's check for $25,000 for Charles City college, conditioned upon the school raising $50,000, has been received. Mr. Carnegie would not send the check until he was absolutely certain the college had raised the required amount. The sum of $27,000 of the $50,000 is in cash, and notes for the remainder are in a bank here as required by Mr. Carnegie. Altogether the college has $130,000 for an endowment.

Body Found in a Trunk.
Seattle, Wash., Jan. 20.—The dismembered body of a young woman was found in a trunk on the shore at the north entrance to Seattle harbor. The trunk apparently had been buried high upon the bluff, but had been carried down to the beach by a recent landslide.

MAKES REPLY TO GERMANY

United States Not Demanding Special Favors.

Washington, Jan. 20.—"No tariff concessions are demanded from Germany that she does not already give to some other nation." This statement was made by a high authority, who added:

"Recent special dispatches from Berlin carry the impression that the United States is making such demands of Germany as to force that nation into a tariff war."

"There is no foundation for such charge or assertion. In the pending negotiations, under section 2 of the new tariff law, the United States is not demanding special favors from Germany or from any other nation."

"All that is asked is equal treatment with our competitors. Any contrary representation from Germany or elsewhere is without foundation and in direct opposition to the policy now being pursued by the United States."

TARIFF WAR WITH GERMANY

New Rates Will Go Into Effect at Midnight on Feb. 7.

Berlin, Jan. 20.—The government has decided that in the event that an agreement upon reciprocal tariffs between the United States and Germany is not reached by Feb. 7, when the running arrangements expires, Germany's general tariff rates must, under the law, be applied to American imports at present coming in under the conventional tariff. One hundred and twenty-seven articles will be affected.

It was, however, semi-officially declared that the tariff negotiations with the United States had not been broken off and it was added that time remained for a settlement of the differences between the two countries.

In the absence of such a settlement the general tariff rates will go into effect automatically at midnight on Feb. 7.

NONE OF THE INJURED EXPECTED TO DIE

Victims of North Dakota Accident Will Recover.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 20.—W. W. Lohes of this city, who was the most seriously injured of the victims of the passenger wreck on the Northern Pacific at New Salem, is slightly improved, and it is said there is some chance for his recovery. He suffered internal injuries and concussion of the brain.

Mrs. Lane of Wilton, N. D., was brought to St. Alexius' hospital from Mandan. She has a severe cut on the back of the head and many body bruises, and it will be a number of days before she can be removed to her home.

Miss Annie Nelson of Minneapolis, a domestic, who was on her way to Dickinson to take a place, was also brought over from Mandan. She has a number of scalp wounds and a strained tendon in her arm.

M. Highgate and Carl Custer of St. Paul, cook and waiter respectively on the dining car, stated they would look for some other occupation, as this is the second wreck for each of them and they are afraid to risk the third.

The wreck occurred where the track was repaired and trains passed over. The cause of the accident was spreading, instead of breaking of the rails.

Both engine crews stuck to their posts, and as neither engine overturned, escaped without injuries.

Falling on a three-foot bank of snow, the cars were not wrecked to any great extent, and the loss from this source will be light. The company, however, faces an enormous loss in personal injury cases, as there was not over a dozen people on the entire train who did not receive cuts and bruises about the head and face. Physicians at Mandan say there were sixty-eight persons in need of medical attention, and the streets there resemble an overgrown hospital. Everywhere were visible bandage encased heads.

FOR LOVE OF A SHOW GIRL

Iowa Youth Accused of Forging Checks.

Duluth, Jan. 20.—Fascinated by a chorus girl, a member of a "Merry Widow" company, Dwight Meyers, a youth of twenty-one years, left his home in Greendale, Ia., and traveled with the company from city to city in order to be near his sweetheart. He was arrested at the Spalding hotel in this city and will be sent back to Minneapolis to answer to a charge of passing worthless checks.

Young Meyers' money seems to have held out until he reached the Flour City. There he is alleged to have obtained money on a number of checks to which a name, which he says is that of his father, was forged.

Minnesota Miner Killed.
McKinley, Minn., Jan. 20.—Gust Mattson, single, twenty-two years old, was instantly killed while acting as a lander on the ore stock pile at the Kellogg mine. Mattson's duty was to attend to the dumping of the ore on the stock pile when the cars were sent out. A hook became detached from the end of a cable and struck the man. Death was instantaneous.

UNION LABOR FILES A PROTEST

MAY ATTEND THE MEETING

Gompers and Mitchell Provisionally Accept Eberhart's Invitation.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and John Mitchell, long a leader of the Miners' union, have accepted, provisionally, Governor Eberhart's invitation to attend the governors' conservation meeting on March 18 and 19. The governor saw them and they both said they would attend if possible.

Other prominent men whom the governor has seen, and who will be present as representatives of the federal government, include George Otis Smith, director of the geological survey; Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture; M. O. Eldridge, the good roads expert; Richard Crosby, the lecturer on agricultural education, and Dr. McGhee, all of the department of agriculture; and C. J. Blanchard of Minneapolis, the statistician of the reclamation service and expert on government irrigation work.

ELECTRICITY AN ANESTHETIC

Experiments Show It to Be the Best Yet Discovered.

Philadelphia, Jan. 20.—Years of investigation by noted surgeons for a perfect anesthetic, which would have no detrimental effect on the heart or other vital organs of the patient, have apparently been rewarded.

Electricity has come to the relief of the surgeon and investigation going on here and abroad, the results of which have just been made public, shows that electricity is far superior to any of the drugs now used. It produces a state of insensibility called "electric sleep" by acting on the nerve centers of the brain.

The sleep is not fatal, and when the electric current is opened the influence is immediately lost and the patient becomes conscious without feeling any of the after effects common with drug anesthetics.

SEVENTEEN MORE HEROES

Carnegie Commission Issues New List of Brave Persons.

Pittsburg, Jan. 20.—The Carnegie hero fund commission announced that seventeen more heroes had been added to its list. There were five silver and twelve bronze medals awarded and about $19,000 in money. The acts of heroism cover rescues from drowning, electrocution, trains, fire and suffocation. Among the heroes named are: Frank B. Weik, Walker, Ia.; Charles W. Weld, Waterloo, Ia.; John A. Grady, East Baltic, P. E. I., Canada; Duncan J. Campbell, Campbell's Cove, P. E. I.

Woman Commits Suicide.

Arlington, Minn., Jan. 20.—Mrs. Sophia Wiemann, a widow, who lived four miles south of here, was found lying on the floor in her parlor with a bullet wound in her temple. She was unconscious and died a few hours later. A 22-caliber rifle, with which the wound was inflicted, was found by her side. It is thought to have been a case of suicide.

Objects to the High Price of Meat in Omaha.

ABSTAIN FOR THIRTY DAYS

Workingmen of the Nebraska City Will Not Eat Meat for a Month in an Endeavor to Lower the Price of the Food—One Thousand Heads of Families Have Signed the Pledge.

Omaha, Jan. 20.—"We, as wage earners, are willing to assist the state and municipalities in probing into the high cost of living, particularly the cost of meat, which is almost prohibitive.

"This agitation can best become effective by refraining from eating meat for a period of thirty days.

"If this does not bring the price within the means of poor people then we will refrain from eating meat for sixty days.

"We, as citizens, do hereby ask our representatives in each councilman district and in the legislative bodies to keep this agitation uppermost in their minds and actions until the result manifests itself.

"We ask the co-operation of all people who are interested in fair play and the future of our otherwise prosperous country."

The pledge of which the foregoing is a copy, appeared in hundreds of shops, stores and offices and before night fully 1,000 signatures of heads of families had been secured. It is believed there will be 5,000 before the end of the week.

Organized labor started the movement and members of the central labor union circulated the petitions. However, they have been signed by all classes regardless of rank or position.

Steps are being taken to carry the anti-meat eating movement to all parts of the state. Butchers in some portions of the city say that already they have noticed a falling off in their sales, for many who have been in the habit of visiting the shops on their way home and buying meat for supper failed to call.

ENDS HIS LIFE IN INDIANA

Minneapolis Man Commits Suicide by Shooting.

Laporte, Ind., Jan. 20.—John A. Johnson of Minneapolis shot himself at Magoes, six miles south. Albert Johnson of Minneapolis is supposed to be his brother.

He was on his way to visit at his old home in Sweden. In his pockets among coin and notes was Swedish money, including a 100-kroner note. He left Chicago Tuesday morning and got off the Baltimore and Ohio train at Union Mills, this county.

It is presumed he was unbalanced mentally. He walked three miles up the Pore Marquette track to Magoes after dark. On arrival there he knocked at the door of Agent Ross of the Wabash.

When it was opened he drew a revolver from his pocket and without a word shot himself in the head, dying forty minutes after.

He looked well and hearty and was well dressed.

ELECTRIC LINE IS BLAMED

Supposed to Be Responsible for Insomnia Among Cows.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—The Aurora, Elgin and Chicago railroad is up against a score of damage claims from the most unexpected and unusual quarter. It is face to face with one of the most unique problems that confronted a railroad and may be compelled to ask the circuit court of DuPage county to solve it.

Dairy farmers who live along the third rail system assert that the operation of electric cars on stormy nights and the frequent blinding flashes of electricity keep their cows awake and that as a consequence they give much less milk than usual. It is the contention of the dairymen that the supply of milk in the section through which the third rail lines operate has been materially reduced.

Goes to Prison for Six Years.

Manistech, Mich., Jan. 20.—George Bush, who was found guilty of burning the Manistech brewery, was sentenced to from six to twelve years in Jackson prison. Frank Wingle of Saginaw was sentenced to from four to twenty years for burglary.

Man and Labor.

Lady Russell in her volume "Squalor and Its Owners" points out that in 1820 the Berkshire estate came into the hands of Sir Henry Russell, who had been a friend of Dr. Johnson. It was at Russell's table that one day the doctor maintained that "no man loved labor; no man would work if he could help it." Reynolds objected and gave Pope for instance. But Pope's inspiration, said the doctor, "was the love of fame and not the love of labor. Leander swam the Hellespont, but that doesn't prove that he loved swimming."

WILDBEASTHUNT WITH A CAMERA

A. R. Dugmore's Description of
His Adventures in Africa.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM LIONS

His Party Often Attacked by Infuriated
Buffaloes—Penetrated Wilds Roosevelt Expedition Could Not Enter.
Killed Beasts of Jungle Only to Protect Own Life and to Get Food.

Running a portrait gallery for the benefit of lions that never heard of the vegetarian theory, but are strong on fletcherism, and trying to get a peevish rhinoceros to hold a pose when he is charging head-on at top six cylinder speed may sound simple—that is, it may sound so in a photograph—but when a person is at the mechanical end of a camera and the aforementioned models never did believe in procrastination it sounds otherwise. At least A. Radcliffe Dugmore, who returned recently to New York from a 2,000 mile trip through the African wilds, says that it is likely to make a person nervous.

Mr. Dugmore has returned with a collection of nearly a thousand photographs of many varieties of African animals. He traversed the same ground that former President Roosevelt has been over, besides many side trips where the Roosevelt party could not go owing to their heavy baggage.

Uses Rifle Only When Necessary.

Mr. Dugmore is not like the ordinary hunter. He hunts with a camera alone and uses his rifle only when it is to protect his life or to get food for the camp. The only trophies he brought back from Africa were photographs. In speaking of his trip Mr. Dugmore said:

"There was lots of adventure during the trip, but there was so much to do that we didn't have time to think that we were in danger. There was more fun taking the pictures in the jungle than there ever could have been shooting with a rifle. There were only two white men in our party—Mr. James L. Clark of the American Museum of Natural History and myself. We had fifty carriers and hunters, but relied on our own knowledge for general guiding. We went from Mombasa to the heart of the jungle by the Uganda railroad, but before we got to the real starting point of our trip we saw plenty of game.

In the protected districts it was a common sight to see scores of hoof animals, like antelope and deer, with a couple of herds of zebras and giraffes, running away from the tracks, and once a bull buffalo disputed the right of way with the engine, but finally decided to move when we got within twenty feet of him. Wardogs and various other animals stood along the tracks and paid no attention to the train save to run after it had passed them. Our first real camera hunting began in the Yato plains, and from there to the region along the Tana and Thika rivers we had all the work we could do. There were lions a-plenty and all other kinds of game.

One Narrow Escape.

"One of the narrowest escapes I had was while camping near the Tana river. One afternoon I was writing a letter to my publishers when suddenly I happened to look up and saw two full grown lions coming toward me. My first thought was to get my camera, but they were too near to be comfortable, and when I took hold of my rifle I remembered that my cartridge belt was in the tent.

"I fired two shots, but both went too high, and then in my dismay I saw that the gun bearer had changed the sights to 250 yards. It was only the work of a minute to lower them, and I fired the two remaining shots from the gun as fast as I could. I got both the lions, but they nearly got me. Later I found that a lioness had been waiting for them and was only a couple of dozen yards away when I fired."

Rhinoceros Very Dangerous.

Mr. Dugmore said that he had seen several hundred antelopes, zebras, giraffes and smaller mammals eating together on the same plain. Several times the Dugmore party was attacked by infuriated buffaloes for no other reason than that the buffaloes had "gone bad" and were on the warpath. The only thing to do under these conditions, he said, was to climb a tree unless you wanted to kill the animal.

"I don't know whether the buffalo, the lion or the rhinoceros is the ugliest animal in Africa," said Mr. Dugmore, "but they are all very nasty propositions. The lion will attack a man without provocation if he feels like it, and so will a buffalo, but a rhinoceros always will. He just charges on general principles.

"I never was in favor of using the gun as an aid to nature study, but the

PAY ROLL

OVER $70,000

Northern Pacific Shop Pay Day Was Larger Than Was Generally Anticipated

FUTURE PROSPECTS ARE GOOD

Uncertainty of Strike Situation Only Bar to Best Commercial Feeling

The pay rolls at the Northern Pacific shops for the month of December, which were paid today, were larger than was generally anticipated. It was thought, that on account of the short hours the roll would fall below $50,000, but instead the amount was over $70,000. This means a good pay day for the local merchants and shows that the size of the force is being kept up, even better than is usual in winter.

Outside of the uncertainty from the strike situation there is every prospect of a prosperous season at the shops and business men are feeling confident of a big year in view of the activity in development work on the Cuyuna range.

RAISES HAT TO NO WOMAN.

Ohio Clergyman Considers the Custom a Sacrilege.

The Rev. Watson Dana, aged seventy-three, of Ohio, who has been visiting Kansas City, Mo., has never raised his hat to a woman and declares that he never will. "No man has greater respect for womanhood than I," said Mr. Dana, "but for a man to raise his hat to her is an act of sacrilege. The Bible teaches us to uncover on entering the temple of the Most High, and the mark of respect I reserve for my God."

Mr. Dana has never touched liquor, never chewed tobacco, smoked or gambled and says he has never told a lie. He has never seen a theatrical performance or traveled on Sunday. He has given away a fortune. He claims kinship with John D. Archibald. He has never had a fight.

The Hermit Crab.

The species of crab which is most conspicuously a fighter is the hermit crab. Its first idea of independent life is to eat a harmless whelk and occupy its shell. Its next notion is to give battle to every crab of the same persuasion as itself that it comes across. Altogether hermit crabs are undoubtedly the most quarrelsome creatures in existence.

Work on the Rogers-Brown Ore Company's properties around Crosby is being steadily pushed and they have a large force of drills at work proving up the body of ore and locating one or more shafts. When asked if the company was waiting the arrival of the railroad before commencing on the shaft he replied that they were not, that they would commence work for the shaft as soon as they completed the preliminary drilling necessary for the work. They still have four drills at work on the state lands of which they have a lease from the Crosby interests, but have moved seven of the 11 formerly at work on that tract to an adjoining section where they are busily engaged in work.

President Helps Orphans

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the president of the Industrial and Orphan's Home of Macon, Ga., who writes: "We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for nine years. It has proved a most excellent medicine for stomach, liver and kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth." It invigorates all vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up pale, thin, weak children or rundown people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c at H. P. Dunn's.

Mustard Seed.

All mustard seeds contain a ferment, myrosine, and a glucoside called sinabline. This ferment acts upon the sinabline in the presence of water, producing the essence of mustard in which is found the characteristic excitant.

Agreed With Him.

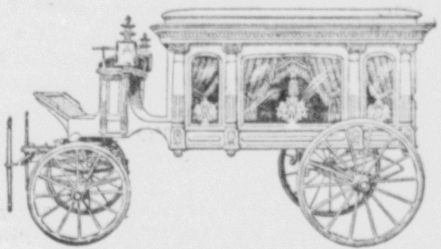

"I have known better days, lady," began Fated James.

"Yes; it's a wretched morning," replied the farmer's wife. "But I've got no time to discuss the weather with you, bad as it is." And she shut the door and left him.

Smokeless

Until science discovered a way to construct the Automatic Smokeless Device, and make it completely dependable, all oil heaters had one common great fault—smoke.

With the advent of the Automatic Smokeless Device, and its practical application to the

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)
the smoke problem was successfully solved.

The Perfection Oil Heater is the only heater equipped with this which insures a steady, full-glowing heat, with the wick turned up as high as it will go, without a shred of smoke. Reverse the motion, turn the wick down—there's no odor.

The smokeless device automatically locks and prevents the upward movement of the wick beyond the proper exposure. That is the secret. This splendid result gives leadership to the Perfection.

You may now have all the heat you want—when you want it—and where you want it—without the annoyance of smoke or odor. Brass font holds 4 quarts of oil, which permits a glowing heat for 9 hours. Brass wick tube—damper top—cool handle. Cleaned in a minute. The Perfection is beautifully finished in Nickel or Japan.

Exchanging Courtesies.

The head of a New York firm having important interests in Italy decided some time ago, in view of the death of an old and reliable clerk who of all in the establishment was the only one to have a good knowledge of the Italian tongue, that his own son, also a member of the concern, ought to take up the study of that language.

Recently a friend met the young man. "I understand," said he, "that you're actually studying Italian."

"Why, yes," said the other. "I've been at it for several months under a teacher just from the other side."

"What progress?"

"Good," was the answer. "He's beginning to speak English remarkably well."—Detroit Free Press.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR

"The 'horrible' part of the whole story came out later," said Alwyn Bennett. "It seems the financier had deliberately ruined Mr. Garrison and was on the other side of the deal by which the bank's funds were lost. In other words, he persuaded his friend to put money in what he knew was a losing venture, then took that money himself."

"He did it willfully," chimed in Mrs. Bennett, "knowing his friend would be ruined and that the bank's money which he had put in was his own ill-gotten fortune."

"I did not think any one lived who could do such things," shuddered Dallas. "Poor Cynthia!"

"Cynthia suffered least of all," said Mrs. Bennett. "She was little more than a child at the time. Her mother died of grief, and her brother—a promising, clever young fellow just entering college—disappeared."

"Deserted Cynthia?"

"Not so bad as that. He probably went away sooner than face his father's disgrace and began life somewhere far from home. That was nine years ago, yet ever since then he sends Cynthia a little money every month—not much, but no doubt all he can scrape together above his bare living expenses. She has tried in every way to get in touch with him, but she can't locate him anywhere. There is no clew except that monthly money order. I never knew him very well—in fact, I only saw him once or twice—but I've heard he was a fine, manly boy. The shock must have been worst of all on him."

"So a man lost his good name and his life, his wife died, his son's life was wrecked and his daughter impoverished," mused Dallas, "and all that a financier might grow a little richer. I can't believe it!"

A little ashamed of displaying such reticence in the presence of one of her uncle's dependents, the girl glanced toward the table. But the secretary had gone.

"My husband," prattled Mrs. Bennett complacently, "always said that the men who rose highest in the money world reached their lofty places over the despoiled bodies of hundreds of victims. Thank God, my boy has no such parental record to look back on. My husband was one man in a million—the soul of honor both in business and in private life. You've read of his splendid civil war record. Then he went into business as a contractor and engineer and earned a fortune. That's something to be proud of in these money loving times."

"What was the name of the financier who ruined Mr. Garrison?" asked Dallas, still haunted by the narrative she had just heard.

"No one knows. It was suppressed at the time. The facts in the written confession left by Mr. Garrison became public property; but, through political influence, the name of the man responsible for the tragedy was suppressed. Here I sit chatting on delightful topics, while those two young people are running all over the place unchaperoned. Excuse me, won't you, and I'll look them up?"

She smiled at Alwyn as she left the room, and his answering smile showed how fully he understood and appreciated her motive in leaving him alone with Dallas. Wainwright. Perhaps Dallas, too, understood, for she made as though to follow Mrs. Bennett out into the lawn. But Alwyn stepped between her and the window.

"Don't go just yet," he begged. "I've so much to talk over with you. When they came in we were speaking of that paragraph about Gibbs and yourself. You don't love him, do you, Dallas? Tell me you don't!"

"What right have you to ask me such a question?"

"Only the right that my love for you gives me, dear heart. You must have known I loved you even though I've never said it before. I love you, Dallas, though till today, I think, I never realized how much. Tell me it isn't true that you're going to marry Gibbs?"

"Even if it weren't true I should not marry you, Alwyn."

"Ah!"

The exclamation was wrong unconsciously from his whitening lips. It was as though a pang of physical pain had pierced him.

"I wouldn't marry you," went on Dallas, though more gently, "because you don't really love me."

"I do! I do! With my whole heart."

"Oh, Alwyn!" she exclaimed with almost mother-like tolerance, "what a child you are! What a mere child! Some one tries to take away from you a plaything you've grown used to having. You never cared especially about the plaything before; but, now that you're in danger of losing it, you cry out: 'Oh, I love it! I love it!' You'll soon find another toy that'll make you forget!"

"Dallas, you are unfair! You have no right to treat my love for you as if—"

"As if it were a mere whim? Isn't it? Now, don't say 'No,' but look me in the eyes and answer one question. If Scott Gibbs hadn't proposed to me—if that paragraph had not appeared in the paper—would you have come here today and told me you loved me? No, you know you wouldn't!"

"Don't talk like that, dear!" implored Bennett. "I tell you I love you! More than I ever dreamed a woman could be loved. I love you! I—"

"There's an easy way to prove it, then."

"By doing something to make me feel proud of you. I don't feel so now. I could not marry a man who loiters his life away—a man who sits idle while others are thronging past him in the upward climb. You are rich, thanks to your father's efforts. What have you done with that wealth? If you've done no harm with it you've at least put it to no good use. You are young, talented, highly educated. What have you done with your youth, your talents, your education? How have you used them for your own betterment or for your fellow men's? What have you to offer me? Money? Social position? I have plenty of both. What else can you offer me? Nothing—absolutely nothing."

"My love, for one thing. I can offer you that."

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Coming Attractions.

January 22—"The Merry Widow."
Jan. 24—"Polly of the Circus."
Jan. 29—"The Man of the Hour."

"Merry Widow"

The musical event of the year will be the engagement of the "Merry Widow," at the opera house Saturday night. For this engagement Mr. Henry W. Savage has arranged to present Lehar's queen of Viennese operettas with the New York company and production. This is the splendid organization which was engaged during the wonderful run of "The Merry Widow" at the New Amsterdam theatre, New York, a run that continued for 56 weeks and was marked by the largest receipts in the history of American theatricals. To insure proper rendition of the delightful score Mr. Savage will send his famous grand opera orchestra under the direction of Frank Mandeville. Tickets now on sale at Dunn's drug store—$1.50, $1.00 and 50c.

"The Man of the Hour"

George Broadhurst's great American play, "The Man of the Hour," in which Managers Wm. A. Brady and Jos. R. Grismer's special company will shortly be seen at the Brainerd opera house, without doubt, one of the most successful plays produced in the past ten years, and as a pecuniary success it has scarcely an equal. That it will remain so for an indefinite time to come, nobody conversant with affairs theatrical doubts. You might as well see it again, and you'll be glad you went, for above everything is the atmosphere of cleanliness and purity that obtains in the production.

"Polly of the Circus"

The Brainerd opera house will offer as its attraction on Monday, Jan. 24, Fredric Thompson's production "Polly of the Circus." The scenes of "Polly of the Circus" are laid in a small town in the middle west, where a circus is playing on a lot adjoining the parsonage. Polly, the principal rider, has a mishap in the ring and as there is no hospital in the town, she is taken to the clergyman's home for care. Up to that time she has known nothing of any life except that under the white top. During the long period of convalescence her very artlessness makes a tremendous appeal to the clergyman who is in love before he knows it.

Mrs. Wilma Anderson Gilman

The London, Eng., Musical Courier has the following to say of Mrs. Wilma Anderson Gilman, who will appear in recital at Elks' hall Friday under the auspices of the Musical club:—"Miss Wilma Anderson, a talented young American, of whom as a pupil, Prof. Van Dooren may well be proud, played delightfully, looked charming and made the hit of the evening."

WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because It's For One Thing Only, and Brainerd People Appreciate This

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing brings success. Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only. They cure sick kidneys. They cure backache, every kidney ailment. Here is Brainerd evidence to prove it.

Charles Allison, 512 S. Quince St., Brainerd, Minn., says: "My kidneys were disordered for years and seemed to be gradually growing worse. About a year ago I was seized with a severe pain in the small of my back and was forced to stop work. The medicine I took helped me, so that I was able to go out in a few weeks, but the trouble came back at times and caused me to suffer severely. About eight months ago I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply from a druggist. The use of a few boxes benefited me in every way and I can now work with ease, having no symptoms of my old complaint. I am confident that Doan's Kidney Pills will live up to representation in all cases of kidney complaint, if taken according to directions."

Who Cares?

As George folded the fair young creature to his heart a dull, crackling sound smote his ear.

"Ah! It's goodbye to those cigars in my vest pocket," he said grimly, "but hang the expense at a moment like this!"—Judge.

WOULD YOU BE CULTURED?

Then Study Scientific Farming, Urges Vassar Graduate.

Miss Elizabeth Moore, Vassar graduate, daughter of Mrs. Philip N. Moore, national president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, who recently enrolled as a student in the agricultural department of the University of Missouri, declared the other day that every man and woman who would be considered cultured nowadays must have a knowledge of scientific farming.

"Agriculture," she says, "is an intricate science. All problems must revert to the soil, for from the soil arises our complex civilization."

Beating Pennsylvania Game Laws. Chief Game Warden Joe Berrier has unearthed and exposed a new device to beat the state game laws in Pennsylvania. During the deer season men were shooting does and placing on the heads by means of incisions in the skulls full sets of horns. These carcasses would then be shipped as fully grown bucks. One such case was reported from Elk county, and Berrier caught the man at Butler, Pa. The man paid the fine of $100 and $28 costs, and that ended the case.

No Difficulty.

Phillips Brooks once gave a new version of the Jonah story to a wondering skeptic who said he doubted whether a whale's throat was large enough to swallow Jonah. "There was no difficulty," said the bishop, "Jonah was one of the minor prophets."
